

Attention Superintendents and Principals: Vic Salazar (*please see below for information about former superintendent Salazar) will use his vast experiences and knowledge to present a workshop on bullying at the Indiana School Counselor Association fall conference on Nov. 9, 2010, from 10:15 am to 12:30 pm. You will come away from this informative and inspiring presentation with a new understanding about bullying, its affect on children's attitudes and behavior, and some simple pointers to deal with bullying situations. Please go to isca-in.org and click on the 2010 ISCA Fall Conference link on the right. You can register to attend on Tuesday, Nov. 9.

*Vic Salazar retired as Superintendent from Gonzales ISD on June 15, 2010 after 36 year of service to the community. Vic Salazar came through the ranks as a teacher, a coach, and an administrator. As high school principal, he implemented the first after school tutorial system with great success. He developed a strong disciplinary system for teachers and staff to follow which produced a strong academic system for all to follow. He later was promoted to Director of Human Services and was able to attract a large percent of minority teachers which was needed in Gonzales. He employed the first African American Principal and Head Football Coach in Gonzales. He was then promoted to Superintendent of Schools and at one time was Superintendent, Director of Human Resources and Curriculum Director for one year in Gonzales.

As superintendent, he implemented the C-SCOPE curriculum which raised the TAKS scores tremendously. He implemented a strong student dress code which brought national news. He also implemented the first student academic monitoring system district wide in Gonzales. In his last year as Superintendent, Gonzales High School became a recognize school, first ever in the history of the TAKS assessment . The middle school was also recognized four straight years.
